

THE CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM

separating myth from reality

We hear a lot about Canada's criminal justice system, but how much do we really understand? Join lawyer Jeff Gindin for a criminal law town hall, where he will help to dispel some misconceptions and answer plain language questions like: How can a lawyer defend someone he knows is guilty? What is plea bargaining and why is it used? How do judges decide sentences and what causes wrongful convictions to occur?

Millennium Library Carol Shields Auditorium
251 Donald Street
Thursday, April 9: 6:30 - 8:30 pm

Jeff Gindin, a Founding Partner of Gindin Wolson Simmonds Roitenberg, has been practising law since 1971, and teaching at the University of Manitoba since 1978. He has appeared in the courts of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, British Columbia and Ontario, as well as the Supreme Court of Canada. He has been involved in many high profile, complex and precedent-setting cases throughout his career.

Winnipeg Public
LIBRARY

Presented in conjunction with the Community Legal Education Association of Manitoba

